Apple TV Plus is Apple's answer to Netflix, Hulu, Disney Plus and HBO Max, among other services. Apple TV Plus differs from these services in its content and from other Apple services because it can be used on so many kinds of devices. Read a complaint to learn how to watch Apple TV Plus on any compatible device. This article focuses on the Apple TV Plus streaming service. This is different from the Apple TV device and Apple TV app. Is that confusing? Did we untand the mess in What Is the Apple TV App? Hero Images/Getty Images It's no surprise that you can watch Apple TV Plus on your iPhone, iPad, iPod touch, Apple TV and Mac via the internet or the Apple TV app. But you can also broadcast Apple TV Plus on many other kinds of devices. The Apple TV app is available on Samsung and LG smart TVs, Roku and Amazon Fire TV streaming devices, and Windows PCs over the internet. Find out if your device is supported in the full list of Apple TV Plus-compatible devices. If your smart TV isn't on this list, check out LG, Samsung, Sony, and Vizio AirPlay 2-compatible TVs later on this page. They support screen mirroring using AirPlay 2. You can watch Apple TV Plus on your iOS, iPadOS, or macOS device, and then mirror your device's screen on one of these compatible TVs. To access Apple TV Plus, you need the Apple TV app, which is preinstalled on Apple devices, and an Apple ID account. Then, on your smart TV or streaming device, download the Apple TV app from the app store to your device. After you install the Apple TV app, start the app, and then choose Start Tracking > Settings > Accounts > Sign in. There are two ways to sign in to your Apple ID: Sign in to your mobile device: Use your phone's camera to scan the QR code that appears on your TV and sign in to your Apple ID on your phone. Sign in to this TV: Use the TV or streaming device remote control to sign in to your Apple ID. After you sign in to your Apple ID, follow any remaining questions on the screen and you'll be ready to start watching. After you install the Apple TV app on your device, as described in the last section, sign up or sign in to Apple TV Plus by following these steps: Open the Apple TV app. If you already have a subscription, just go to Settings > Accounts > and sign in with your Apple ID to start watching. If you don't have an Apple TV Plus subscription, click Watch Now > scroll down to Channels > click Apple TV+. Select the free trial offer. Sign in with your Apple ID. If the app asks you, confirm the billing information for the credit or debit card in the file on your Apple ID and/or add a valid payment card. Once your free trial expires, this card will be charged every month. Select Confirm and start tracking. Apple TV Plus costs US$4.99/month, or $49.99/year, for up to 6 family members and includes a free 7-day trial. Apple makes it easy to share your subscription with up to 5 5 family members or close friends (for a total of 6 users) using the family sharing feature. Family Sharing can only be set up from your iOS or iPadOS device or from a Mac. To use an iPhone or other iOS device to set up Family Sharing, follow these steps: Tap the Settings > app [your name]. If you haven't used Family Sharing before, tap Set up family sharing > Get started. Confirm the Apple ID you want to use to create the family sharing group (this will probably be the Apple ID you use for anything else, including signing up for Apple TV Plus), and confirm the payment method you'll use for any purchases made using Family Sharing. Tap Invite family members and send invitations to friends or family via text message or ask them to join your device directly. Once a person joins the family sharing group, they can sign in to Apple TV Plus with their own devices using their Apple ID and watch using your subscription. After you install the Apple TV app, sign in to your Apple ID and have an Apple TV Plus subscription, it's time to start watching. Open the app and search for Movies, TV Shows, and Kids in the menu bar at the top of the screen. You can also search for content using the Search menu. Scroll down the screen to see the sections that appear, including Up Next—which lists the next episodes in shows you're already watching and suggestions based on your watch history—and forwarded items from your Apple TV library. Apple TV Plus provides original TV shows and movies available only through Apple. These are high-end programs featuring big name stars like Jennifer Aniston, Tom Hanks, and Oprah Winfrey. Unlike streaming other services, Apple TV Plus doesn't have a huge library of programs. So while Netflix and Hulu offer tens of thousands of things to watch, Apple TV Plus offers dozens (as of this writing; the service adds new programming all the time). Apple TV Plus has a small library of content, but the Apple TV app offers other content, including movies and TV shows that you can rent or buy from iTunes. The app is also a hub for compatible streaming apps, so shows from Hulu, Amazon Prime, and other services appear in the Apple TV app, too. You can watch them application by clicking on them. Apple TV Plus doesn't offer a live TV (although if you have a compatible streaming app with a live TV, you can watch it using the Apple TV app). Since there is no live TV on the service, it does not offer a DVR. Offline downloading works on your iPhone, iPad, iPod touch, and Mac. To download something to watch offline, follow these steps: Find the view or movie by browsing or searching for it, and click it to go to the screen about the view or movie. Click the Download icon (it's the cloud with the down arrow in the lower-right corner, just below the image). They don't support downloading all content or streaming services, so this won't always be available. After the Watch it by going to the Library menu in the Apple TV app, clicking Download, and then clicking the program. Not inside the Apple TV Plus. However, the Apple TV app, which houses the Apple TV Plus streaming service, is built into Apple's movie and TV stores. So throughout the Apple TV app, you'll see movies and TV that you can rent or buy. When you rent or buy them, you'll watch them using the Apple TV app (but technically they're part of that app, not Apple TV Plus). Yes. This is useful if you have kids who use the Apple TV app and don't realize the difference between streaming apple TV Plus and buying something special. To block purchases in the Apple TV app, follow these steps: Click the Settings menu. Click Restrictions. Click Enable Restrictions. Enter a four-digit password. This is the code that will be used to disable and disable restrictions. Turn on the Buy and Rent in Restriction menu. Not on the Apple TV Plus streaming service itself, no. This is limited to initial programming by Apple. However, you can use the Apple TV app's Channels feature to sign up for other services, and then watch their content in the Apple TV app. To do this: Go to the Available Apple TV channels section of the Apple TV app and select a service. Select the free trial button and follow the on-screen instructions to sign up. Most services offer a short free trial. Your monthly subscription will be charged by Apple using your Apple ID.
